

PASS 1994

I was born in the right generation, see this where the OG's get it a lil fucked up. You can't be stuck in the back all the time, we can't keep progressin wearing bootcut True Religion. We came in the game a "lil bit fucked up" the endings of blockbuster, vhs, satellites, food stamp cash, & the black cable box with the buttons on top. I'm glad that the new generation ain't deal with that nast ass cereal "pops."

Listen, I ain't got the answers like ye do. But I know now it's about the moments that pushes shit forward. Y'all ain't gotta create, just do. It's all about technology, do whatever, say whatever, bug the fuck out! This our time y'all...
